GRAPE FRUIT IN VARIOUS FORMS

The grapefruit is to-day the aristocrat of the breakfast table, and its When Your Hair users, says the Delineator, are discovering constantly new ways to make it fit every sort of meal. Here are some of the best and latest:

Grapefruit Nut Falad—Cut grapefruit and carefully remove centre, leaving a liming of fruit. Fill space with English walnuts and almonds, half and half. Salt nuts lightly. Make a dressing by straining juice from centre of fruit and mixing with olive oil.—two parts juice and one part olive oil. Pour over nuts, chill and serve.

Grapefruit Surprise—Halve fruit and carefully cut out centres, leaving a lining of fruit. Whip a pint and a haif of cream to a froth, skimming off froth as fast as it rises, and place in a colander to drain. That which drains off may be put back and whipped over. Add one cupful of blanched almonds. Mix thoroughly with sugar until quite sweet. Piehigh in grapefruit and place on ice for three or four hours.

Grapefruit Pudding—Cut in half and scoop out the centres of three grapefruit. Beat the whites of four eggs until quite stiff, then add gradually one cupful of sugar, beating all the while. When very smooth and light, add strained grapefruit juice and beat again. Mix with a empty and a latting the liquid out along strands and letting the liquid out along the parting with a medicine dropper. After this shake the hair by the ends until it is thoroughly dried. Unsystematic brushing is a frequent cause of unruly hair. The brush should be perfectly clean and the strokes directly in pretty much the same direction every time, after which smoothing with a bit of soft silk will hap give a lustre.

If the hair is saggy and inclined to fall apart in strands so that it appears never to have been properly arranged, use a tonic shampoo made by dissolving one drain of camphor in two ounces of alcohol and add to a mix-united the parting with a medicine dropper.

record is more closely interwoven with national history on both sides of the Atlantic than the Setons, who have just lost one of their most gallant sons through the death at an advanced age of Sir William Seton, Laird of Pitmedden, in Aberdeenshire. Like Field Marshal Sir Evelyn Wood, he could boast of having seen active service both in the navy and in the army, being a midshipman when he took part in the Persian war of 1556, and in the storming of Bushire, and an officer in the army when he fought through the Indian Mutiny and the Afghan war. He is succeeded as tenth baronet, and in the possession of his ancestral home of Cushnie, by his only son, now Sir John Saue 5 and whereupon the recorder declared his tenth baronet, and in the possession of his ancestral home of Cushnie, by his only son, now Sir John Seton, 7 soldier, like nearly all of his ancestors, being a retired captain of Royal Artillery, and still unmarried. Next in the line of succession comes his father's younger brother, Captain Charles Seton, also a veteran of the English army, and of the Afghan wars, and who makes his home at Guthrie, Oklahoma.

The most notable representative of the American Setons at the present time is Mgr. Robert Seton, Archbishop of Heliopolis, who, after spending a number of years at Rome as canon of the Lateran Basilica, is now returning to America to spend the remainder of his days in his native land. He is the last of the Setons of Parbroath, whose ancestor came to New York at the beginning of the eighteenth century and married a Miss Curzon, of Baltimore. "Earl, duke or King, be thou that list he Seton, thy lordship is enough for me."

This Lord Seton's half-sister was the favorite of the four Marys of Mary Queen of Scots. After sharing the Queen's captivity, both in Scotland and in England, and refusing numerous offers of marriage, she took the vows of a nun, and became the immate of a convent at Itheims, of which Queen Mary's aged aunt, Duchesse Renee de Lorraine, was abbess.

The most curious of the several existing memorials of Mary Seton is a memento mori watch, now in the possession of the Dick Lauder family. It was presented to her by Queen Mary. The watch is in the form of a skull. On the forehead is the figure of Death standing between a palace and a cottage. Around it is a legend from Horace. The upper part of the skull bears representations of Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden, and of the crucifixion, each with a Latin legend. Between these scenes is open work, so as to let out the sound when the watch strikes the hours on a small silver beli, which fills the hollow of the skull, and receives the works within it when the watch is shut.
